Alligator Etiquette

From time to time, because of all the water around the Greater Houston area as well as the many acres still undeveloped, alligators will appear on the scene. They are opportunistic looking for food and, during spring, looking for love. Due to urbanization, sometimes they're looking for love in all the wrong places. They typically mind their business unless provoked, but countless horror stories and theories abound as to their love for small dogs and children. Yes, alligators can be aggressive. Yes, big alligators could eat small dogs and harm small children. Yes, you could be struck by lightning. The point is that when we see alligators "intruding" into "our" world, common sense dictates that you stay out of their way.

1. Do NOT feed or harass alligators. If you love your pet, keep it on a leash. Do not throw Objects into the water for your dog to retrieve.
2. If you see a pile of twigs, grasses and/or soil near the side of the trail, avoid it. It's a nest and the mother alligator is probably close by guarding it.
3. Plan a route of retreat: Retreat slowly; make no quick movements. Keep your eyes on the alligator. Retreat uphill where possible. Keep retreating in this manner until the alligator no longer demonstrates aggressive behavior.

If the alligator is acting out in an aggressive manner, please try to make contact with the Texas Park and Wildlife to make a complaint. Otherwise please contact the Riverstone HOA. Unless the alligator is aggressive or on your property, the Texas Parks and Wildlife will not give you a complaint number. It is best to call the HOA and let us obtain a complaint number, which can be done during normal business hours. Once a complaint number has been given to the HOA a nuisance hunter can be called and they will come try to apprehend the alligator and relocate it.

WELCOME June Tang

We are pleased to announce that effective March 30th, 2015, June Tang joined The Johnson Development Corp. as the Development Manager for Riverstone. June will be directing the planning, design, engineering and construction activities for Riverstone.

June comes to us from the Houston development team of a large public home builder and brings several years of experience on the engineering side as well. ## FITNESS TIP of the MONTH

Find The Best Fitness Buddy

A workout buddy is hugely helpful for keeping motivated, but it's important to find someone who will inspire—not discourage. So make a list of all your exercise-loving friends, then see who fits this criteria, says Andrew Kastor, an ASICS running coach: Can your pal meet to exercise on a regular basis? Is she supportive (not disparaging) of your goals? And last, will your bud be able to keep up with you or even push your limits in key workouts? If you've got someone that fits all three, make that phone call.

Lots of residents, inflatables, a rock wall, face painting, entertainment, the Easter Bunny, thousands of Easter eggs and the unveiling of a permanent outdoor art sculpture—

Spring Fling 2015 was a great success!

What do raptors, snakes and alligators have in common? They were all in Riverstone on Saturday, April 11th! The Wildlife & Nature Expo was filled with fun and educational exhibits, including a live bird show, and the chance to hold a non-venomous snake. Thank you everyone for attending!

Thank you to everyone who was part of our filming on Great Day Houston on April 8th. A special thank you goes out to Kunal Seth for being our guest speaker. Great Day covered our 'Houston's Largest Home Tour' and gave updates on all the exciting things happening around the community, including the Big Adventure Park.

Riverstone is proud to be a Johnson Development community.

Other area Johnson Development communities include

Cross Creek Ranch, Edgewater, Fall Creek, Grand Central Park, Harmony, Harvest Green, Imperial, Riverstone, Sienna Plantation, Tuscan Lakes, Willow Creek Farms, and Woodforest.
