All About Recycling!

We love that so many of our residents opt to recycle their plastic, glass, paper and other items. The following how-tos will help make your recycling efforts even more planet-friendly:

1. Items should be placed loose in your recycling bin. If you must use a bag, it needs to be a clear, transparent recycling bag. If they can't see what's inside, the items will not be recycled.
2. Remove caps, liquids and food products from inside containers you are recycling.
3. If you have more items to recycle than will fit in your bin, place it in a clear bag, a box or a container that is not smaller than 30 gallons and not larger than 50 gallons. Label it "Recycle" and place it next to your regular recycling bin.
4. Recycle moving boxes. Flatten them and place them next to the recycling bin. Please limit the boxes to no more than 20 per recycle collection day.

Riverstone Community Memorial Policy

Your love for a family member or friend who has passed away is undying, and now, you can ensure their memory lives on forever with a memorial bench, statue or plaque.

Benches will match current benches installed throughout the development and will be installed adjacent to a common area sidewalk or trail. Similarly, statues will be made of bronze like those currently in the community. The association will work with you to determine the design, vendor, location and more. The bench plaques will be mounted on the front face of the back of the bench. Plaques for statues will be located at the base of the statue.

Memorial applications can be found on the association website. The person making the request is responsible for purchase and installation cost. The cost must be paid upfront. If you have any questions, please contact customer@riverstone.com.

SCULPTOR TRANSFORMS DEAD TREE INTO COMMUNITY ART

A dead tree outside The Club at Riverstone has received new life as a beautiful piece of community art thanks to wood carver James Phillips.

Despite our best efforts, a tree gracing our amenity complex died. Rather than chopping it down and hauling it away, we decided to turn it into something Riverstone residents could enjoy.

When our community was faced with deciding what to do about the tree at The Club, we decided to call on Phillips, who carved fallen trees and stumps in Galveston after Hurricane Ike 12 years ago.

Over a period of nearly three weeks, Phillips used a 36-inch large chainsaw to rough out a design. He then scaled back to smaller chainsaws and eventually an electric saw with tips that allowed for fine detailing. When the carving was complete, he finished his creation with spent motor oil.

The result was a playful sculpture featuring 10 children, three owls and four birds. It is a stunning addition to the works of art that dot our community.

We are so pleased that we were able to preserve this beautiful old tree for the next generation of Riverstone residents. Pay us a visit and see this amazing transformation today.

VOLLEYBALL, ANYONE?

We've seen a "spike" in interest regarding Riverstone's newest amenity—a new sand volleyball court!

The court is next to the splash pad at The Club at Riverstone. A number of you have already found it and are making good use of the court. We hope everyone will have a chance to have a "ball" at the new amenity soon—let us know if you'd like to start a resident league, and we'll help you get the word out. The sand volleyball court is open play; no reservations are needed.

TENNIS COURT ENHANCEMENTS

The tennis courts at The Club at Riverstone are getting an upgrade! New windscreens for all of the courts are being replaced, with the work expected to be complete by the time you're reading this article.

We are also excited to share about the installation of new lighting to meet the recommendations set forth by USTA. We've reached out to a leading sports lighting company—Musco—for this upgrade. Found in sports arenas around the world, Musco lighting has a reputation for trouble-free operation and long-term reliability. We can't wait to flip the switch to see how the new lights work!

With these upgrades, we are excited to launch some new league play options that will be announced in the coming months.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

Riverstone Business Spotlight

When Riverstone residents Cami and Aurel White decided to open a business in their community, they decided it should be something that wasn't readily available. Something beneficial to everyone. Two years ago, they opened YogaSix.

Cami and Auril own the franchise with Cami's parents Deb and Rob Morise. Cami says it is a true family business with two and soon to be three of their eight children working at the studio.

"We were looking to open a family business in the community where we bought a home," Cami said. "Yoga helped me personally in many ways, and really helped me physically and mentally after I had my seventh child and during the pregnancy of my eighth. We knew that others could benefit from it as well—the same way I did."

She acknowledges that while many people are interested in yoga, they might have reservations. She said YogaSix takes this into account.

"People have given us many reasons why they haven't started their yoga practice," she said. "Some say, 'I'm not flexible.' We can help with that! Some say, 'I don't know what I'm doing.' That's why we have teachers. As long as you know where your feet, arms, legs and back are, you'll be great in class."

Cami said that many people don't want others looking at and judging them. To counter this, YogaSix teachers keep the lights dim and encourage everyone to focus on their own practice.

"The teachers are there to help and assist, not judge and correct. We each have our own mat, and our own practice, and we can't judge ourselves based on someone else and where they are in their practice—only where we are and how far each of us have personally come."

The YogaSix philosophy is that everyone deserves the mind and body benefits that yoga provides. Benefits that include increasing strength, flexibility, core strength and cardiovascular health as well as decreasing stress and anxiety, improved recovery time for athletes and lowering blood pressure.

"We love our yoga community and love that our team and our members make the effort to welcome and encourage everyone," Cami said. "We have members who have had years of experience and those who are just stepping onto the mat for the first time; we have members looking to destress, work through an injury, gain flexibility, or movement in their lives. All are welcome."

There are currently eight teachers. One of them, Veronica Naje, is a Master Teacher. There are only six instructors with this distinction out of 1,500 YogaSix certified trainers.

The studio currently offers seven classes: Y6 Hot, Y6 Slow Flow, Y6 Sculpt & Flow, Y6 Power, Y6 Restore, Y6 Mix (a condensed 45-minute combo of Hot, Sculpt & Restore) and Y6 Slow Jams (condensed 45-minute combo of Y6 Slow, Y6 Hot & Y6 Restore).

Cami's hands-down favorite is Y6 Hot.

"It's a set sequence, so you can see your progression from the first time you take the class to wherever you are in your practice after that," she said. "I like the predictability of the class. I turn my mind off for an hour and just flow."

Cami wants people to know that YogaSix is easy to try. Classes are taught in English using only a few Sanskrit terms. Classes are geared toward every skill level.

"All classes are all levels, meaning anyone can take any class," Cami said. "Our schedule is great with early a.m., mid-day, and evening classes to fit everyone's needs. It is important for us to keep yoga as accessible as possible to every person who walks through our door. We have a great, welcoming, encouraging and empowering community, where everyone has a place to practice."

YogaSix is located at 18921 University Boulevard. To learn more, visit their website at www.yogasix.com/location/riverstone, email them at riverstonegm@yogasix.com or give them a call, 713-364-2506.

IN YOUR COMMUNITY

Fort Bend County Nonprofit Spotlight

When Ammie Blahuta was told her daughter had Down syndrome, she had doubts. She wasn't sure how she would give Sadie what she needed to thrive. Her search for support led her to GiGi's Playhouse, a unique organization offering free educational and therapeutic programs to individuals with Down syndrome, their families and the community.

GiGi's Playhouse is a national non-profit organization formed to change the way the world views Down syndrome. It is the only network of Down syndrome achievement centers in the nation. These brick-and-mortar locations provide a range of resources to help people with Down syndrome reach their full potential while providing families with support.

Blahuta founded the Sugar Land location after trying and failing to find the resources she needed.

"We looked for resources online and couldn't exactly find what we felt like we needed, especially not in Fort Bend County," Blahuta said. "My mom's friend, who was the special education coordinator at Terry High School, found GiGi's Playhouse Nationals online and told my mom 'This is what Ammie needs.'"

The Blahutas researched the organization. What caught their attention was that the non-profit believed in all individuals with Down syndrome, providing services for all ages—not just infants and children.

GiGi's extensive list of therapeutic programs are designed to provide vital gross motor, fine motor, developmental, fitness and speech and language programs. Different programs address the needs of different age groups, but all are designed to address the challenges of individuals with Down syndrome.

"The one-on-one therapies are probably the most helpful for Sadie's education and personal growth," Blahuta said. "Individuals who have Down syndrome are far more capable of doing things than some people give them credit for (especially historically speaking). It just takes them a little longer sometimes."

"Over the past year, GiGi's Playhouse Sugar Land has served 415 families, provided 6,685 free program hours and 374 one-on-one speech therapy hours.

To keep programs free and accessible to all families, GiGi's Playhouse relies heavily on volunteers. All programs except for speech therapy are run by volunteers. Blahuta said the organization always needs volunteers—especially for their one-on-one programs. She said that no experience is necessary.

"Our staff provides all the materials needed to run a successful program," she said. "The online volunteer training that is provided by our national office is a huge benefit." Consistency is our biggest struggle when it comes to volunteers. No professional degree is needed!"

GiGi's Playhouse also relies on donations. Their annual "I have a Voice" gala will take place from 6–11 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 15, at George Ranch Historical Park. The gala will be an evening of acceptance with a VIP happy hour, gourmet dinner, open bar, live music and dancing, live auction, raffle, bottles and booze pulls, boot shine station, inspiration from children and adults with the organization and more.

To learn more about GiGi's Playhouse, sign up to volunteer or donate, please visit <https://gigisplayhouse.org/sugarland/>.

HEALTH TIP OF THE MONTH

July is UV Safety Awareness Month and your skin is your body's largest organ. The US Department of Agriculture writes that it "protects you against heat, sunlight, injury, and infection. The sun's ultraviolet (UV) rays can damage your skin in as little as 15 minutes yet, some of us don't consider the necessity of protecting our skin. By using a layered approach for sun protection consisting of shade, clothing, a hat, sunglasses and sunscreen, we can significantly reduce our exposure and risk for skin cancer." Protect your skin this summer and practice these tips to remain healthy!

SUCCULENT YOGA CLASS

We all know that exercise is good for the body, but did you know that succulents (and plants in general) are good for your physical and mental health? Succulents purify the air by removing toxins and releasing oxygen as well as maintaining balanced moisture in the air. This results in improved focus, reduced stress, better sleep and decreased illness.

Join us on Saturday, July 9th, from 9:00am to 10:00am to invest in your physical and mental wellness as we combine the art of Yoga and the healing properties of succulents! Each participant will be given a succulent of their own to continue this practice into their homes and daily lives.

Tennis Court Etiquette

- Talk quietly when standing near tennis courts that are in use so as not to disrupt players on adjacent courts.
- Never walk behind a court when a point is still in play. Wait until the point is over and then cross as fast as possible to get to your own court.
- When sending balls back to a neighboring court, roll them on to the back of the court.
- Never send them back while play is in progress. Also, if one of your balls rolls into an adjacent court, don't run after it, just wait for your neighboring court to return the ball when it's convenient.
- When reserving courts please be considerate to other residents by cancelling your reservation when you know that you will not be using it.

Unauthorized Tennis Lessons

Recently there has been an increase of tennis lessons at Riverstone by unauthorized tennis pros. Please keep in mind that HOA rules prohibits the teaching of tennis lessons by unauthorized persons.

Tennis Court Reminders

- Only authorized professionals are allowed to teach at both Riverstone's locations.
- Please remember all tennis court reservations are now available through the Riverstone app only.

RIVERSTONE BLOOD DRIVE

The Gulf Coast Regional Blood Center is in need of donations, so we are hosting another blood drive to help them meet their goal. Every pint of whole blood can be broken down into three components—red blood cells to treat cancer, surgery and trauma patients; plasma, which can help replace fluids in burn and trauma patients; and platelets, which help cancer and bone marrow transplant patients recover. That means for one donation, three lives can be saved! As a token of appreciation, each donor will receive a Gulf Coast Regional Blood Center zip pullover! Make an appointment by visiting the Riverstone App.

DJ SATURDAYS

Listen to the latest hits several Saturdays this summer at The Waterpark! These days will feature a live DJ with games & prizes, so come and test out your dance moves and swimming styles with your fellow neighbors. Please note that times may vary and adjustments might be made due to special events or weather.

BLAST FROM THE PAST

Kids Fishing Tournament was a success!

Riverstone hosted its very first Kids Fishing Tournament and had a blast. Over 100 kids gathered around the lake with their fishing poles in hopes of catching a fish. The average size caught amongst many of the kids was 14in with the largest being 28in. Congratulations to all of our winners and thank you to The Greater Sugar Land Coastal Conservation Association for facilitating the event!
