HOA CORNER

Meet Andrew Hooie Our Neighborhood Gate Guru

Andrew Hooie, applies what he learned in the Marine Corp. to every task he takes on, including serving as our new Neighborhood Gate Maintenance Technician.

Andrew joined us in April. He's responsible for the inspection, maintenance and repairs to all the gated community vehicle and pedestrian gates, access control and camera systems.

"I still value a lot of the traits that I learned in the Marine Corps," Andrew said. "I apply those to every task I take on with the primary objective being, 'mission accomplishment' i.e., doing what is necessary to complete the job."

A U.S. Marine Corps veteran with two deployments to Iraq in 2003 and 2004, Andrew brings a lot of experience to the table.

"After completing my service," he said. "I worked as a defense contractor for the U.S. Army working on multiple projects focusing primarily on the detection and prevention of improvised explosive devices."

He also worked as a field service technician installing and repairing security camera systems on multiple military installations throughout Iraq and Afghanistan.

Before taking on the job at Riverstone he was the Maintenance Coordinator at New Territory Residential Community Association where he was also responsible for the maintenance and repairs of their gated community access control systems.

When not keeping things running smoothly for us, he is hard at work earning a B.S. in Electrical Engineering Technology. He enjoys sports and the outdoors, spending most of his free time fishing. He also enjoys woodworking and hopes to have his own shop. A fun fact about him is that he has visited 11 countries (Italy is his favorite).

He enjoys his work at Riverstone. "I like that Riverstone has a large number of gated communities," Andrew said. "That proves to be very challenging and allows me to grow professionally by expanding my knowledge and skills on systems I am unfamiliar with."

The next time you see Andrew out doing repair work, stop by and give him a warm Riverstone welcome!

Gate Tips From Andrew

- When entering a neighborhood, drive close to the toll tag reader. If you are not sure where they are located, please call the HOA office.
- Do not bump the gates to try to get them to open. This will damage the gates and cause them not to function properly.
- Do not allow children to climb or hang on gates and report any misconduct immediately. Please provide as much information as possible such as date, time, and license plate info.

- Finally, the easiest way to report gate issues is on the LUKE app. Residents may also report gate issues by emailing the Operations Team at operations@riverstone.com or by calling the HOA office at 281.778.2222.

RIVERSTONE POOL GUIDE 2023

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

Conservation and Development

Alligators in Riverstone

For centuries, alligators have inhabited Texas' marshes, swamps, rivers, ponds, and lakes. They are an essential part of Texas's natural history and integral to freshwater ecosystems.

As Riverstone continues to develop, there exists the potential for increased interactions between people and alligators. Once endangered, alligators were taken off the endangered species list in 1978. However, they are still protected by law. Alligators are found in 10 different states, and here in Texas, they are found in 120 of 254 counties, including Fort Bend.

A better understanding of alligators and their behavior will help ensure that residents and alligators can continue to coexist. Alligators naturally shy away from humans and prefer isolated areas away from people. In the spring and summer, alligators are moving to breed and find new habitats. Most of the alligators seen moving around are the smaller ones pushed out of their normal habitat by larger alligators. Usually, these smaller alligators will move further on in a week or two. Our most active months here in Riverstone are April through July.

Several alligators have been spotted recently in Riverstone Lakes. Still, at this time, they have not exhibited behavior that would be defined as a "nuisance" by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department (TPWD).

Alligators are native to the area and can be found in the lakes and bayous around the community. Riverstone Association and LID 15 follow the guidelines and regulations set by TPWD for trapping and relocating alligators.

If You See an Alligator

Many residents will live in close proximity to these native reptiles with no confrontations; however, there are occasions when certain alligators become a "nuisance" and must be handled by the proper authorities. The current legal definition of a nuisance alligator is "an alligator that is depredating (killing livestock or pets) or a threat to human health and safety." TPWD is the only authority that can deem an alligator a nuisance because of its protected status. Riverstone Association and LID 15 rely on TWPD to perform any removals.

Alligators have a natural fear of humans and usually retreat when approached by people; however, the following are instances in which local authorities should be notified:

- If you see an alligator in the roadway;
- If you see an alligator being antagonized or fed;
- If an alligator is repeatedly following boats, canoes, or other watercraft and/or maintains a close distance without submersing; or
- If you walk near the water and an alligator comes straight toward you, especially if it comes out of the water.

If you notice any of these "nuisance" behaviors, contact LID 15 using the following link, and the incident will be reported to TWPD: www.fblid15.com/contact-us

Riverstone Business Spotlight

Looking for the tastiest place to get your hot wing fix? Wing Station offers all your favorite spicy sauces, rubs and more.

The hottest spot for wings in the area opened in 2020. Owner Usama Rehman lives in our sister community of Sienna.

“Wing Station Riverstone is your home for incredible chicken wings in Sugar Land, Texas,” said Rehman. “We specialize in a unique approach to hand-spun wings, savory sauces and tasty dry rubs.”

The food is also halal—food prepared and handled in accordance with Islam precepts.

“I wanted to bring something special for our Sienna and Riverstone community,” Rehman said. “I’m Muslim and we have a big community in the neighborhood. I wanted to bring some Halal American food for our community.”

The family-owned business takes great care in the preparation of the wings, burgers and side dishes served up daily.

“Our food is always fresh,” Rehman said. “And we have a lot more wings flavors than the other wing places. We also have beef burgers and chicken sandwiches.”

The array of wing options is staggering. In addition to traditional buffalo sauce, patrons can choose from flavors like mango habanero, Tangy Sriracha Gold, honey BBQ, teriyaki, lemon pepper, garlic herb parmesan, jerk, cowboy, Texas Heat and more.

Customers can pair their wings and burgers with sides such as cheese sticks, carrots and celery, corn nuggets, onion rings, French fries and Cole slaw.

“We’ve got the perfect flavor for any and all wing enthusiasts.” Rehman said. “Try them by themselves or paired with one of our signature sides. Stop in today or have us deliver the party to you.”

Wing Station Riverstone is located at 4821 LJ Parkway. The restaurant is open 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily. You can order online at <https://wing-station.com> or call 832.987.1343.

Fort Bend County Nonprofit Spotlight

Adults and children need an outlet for their creativity. The Sugar Land Art Center & Gallery fulfills that need, offering classes, affordable art and Lego camps, studios for artists to create and a gallery to showcase their work.

Local artists Marilyn Dickey and Kip Dornhorst co-founded the art center in 2005. The mission, said Bobbi Templin, Executive Director of Sugar Land Art Center & Gallery, is to provide an inspiring environment for the creative individual—including children and senior citizens—through art lessons, art education, creative structured Lego camps, working studio space, a gallery and fellowship. Overall, the center desires to promote a positive awareness of the arts.

“Art is alive and well in Sugar Land, Texas,” Templin said. “We are a 501c3 non-profit organization. Just think about it, without art how much of our history would be lost?”

The location in Sugar Land has four classrooms. The center hosts classes, camps, bridal showers, birthday parties, private lessons, workshops and more. There are also 21 studios for artists. Currently, all are leased and there is a waiting list. The gallery showcases the work of Texas artists mostly from Fort Bend County.

Classes cater to both adults and children. In addition to drawing, painting, sketching and sculpting classes, the center also offers music and Lego classes. Templin said that art is important for children, especially now that many schools have less emphasis on the arts.

“Art helps improve fine and gross motor skills, teaches children to be more aware of themselves and others, teaches focus and perseverance and helps children express their emotions in a positive way,” she said. “Art also has the ability to help you reach out to your potential by expressing yourself through creative ideas.”

The nonprofit offers affordable summer camps for children ages 5 to 14. Art and Lego camps for children make the center special, Templin said. Spring, summer, pumpkin painting and winter camps are available. The summer camps serve approximately 1,000 children annually.

“We have Lego and art camps morning and afternoon,” she said. “All Legos are furnished by the center for different activities.

We have art camps which are theme-driven. Once the theme is selected, the kids are divided by ages. They will paint a 16x20 canvas, sculpture, watercolor, oil pastels, drawing and sketching.” On the last day of camps, students will bring all their projects home to display and enjoy.

Templin said that the camps are very affordable so everyone can enjoy the arts. There is a scholarship program for families who cannot afford to pay.

A registered and approved 501c3, Sugar Land Art Center & Gallery is totally supported by the money it generates through the classes and rentals of its classrooms.

They do need "volunteers" to help teachers and the children with the art and Lego camps.

When it comes to the center, the benefits are enormous.

“Art classes expose students to art from all over the world, which helps them understand our shared humanity,” Templin said. “Studying the history of ancient Romans, Egyptians, Christians, etc. would be very difficult if not highlighted by the art that was left behind helping us to understand our past.”

Sugar Land Art Center is located at 104 Industrial Blvd, Ste. Q in Sugar Land. Summer camps began on May 30 and run from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday through the week of August 7.

For more information visit, www.sugarlandartcenter.org or call, 281.565.0957.

Tennis Court Etiquette

- Talk quietly when standing near tennis courts that are in use so as not to disrupt players on adjacent courts.
- Never walk behind a court when a point is still in play. Wait until the point is over and then cross as fast as possible to get to your own court.
- When sending balls back to a neighboring court, roll them on to the back of the court.
- Never send them back while play is in progress. Also, if one of your balls rolls into an adjacent court, don't run after it, just wait for your neighboring court to return the ball when it's convenient.
- When reserving courts please be considerate to other residents by cancelling your reservation when you know that you will not be using it.

Tennis Court Reminders

- Court #6 at The Club at Riverstone and court #9 at Riverstone Blvd are designated as walk on courts. They are available for walk-on play during tennis court hours. Please be mindful when using the courts for walk-on play and limit your time to a maximum of 2 hours.

- Tennis courts are for the use of tennis or pickleball play only. Any other sports or equipment are strictly prohibited. For more information refer to rule #4 at the Resource Center under Community Info.
- Parking for use of Tennis Courts 9 & 10 is at the Riverstone Blvd Recreation Center. Please refrain from parking within the Parkside neighborhood.

SUMMER LUAU

Aloha! Limbo your way down to The Waterpark for this year's Summer Luau!

Hang loose, take your shoes off, and go for a swim while we take you on a voyage to the Islands of Hawaii.

Your tropical journey begins with soothing island music, traditional games, and cool treats for the first 200 attendees (while supplies last)!

The Big Island Luau Show will begin promptly at 7:00pm featuring storytelling through dance by hula maidens and a breath-taking Samoan fire knife dance. Your paradise awaits!

Please note that this is a resident-only event. No guests will be allowed into The Waterpark during the Summer Luau, even with a guest card!

A resident amenity card will be required for everyone in your group for entry. Please be aware if you do not have your amenity card with you at the gate, the Recreation Attendant will not let you inside.

If you would like to obtain your amenity card prior to the event, please visit the HOA Office during business hours (Monday to Friday—9:00am to 5:00pm) or email them during those same times at customercare@riverstone.com. Thank you for understanding!
