Compliance Reminders

Lawn Care

As fall approaches, many residents will likely be outdoors more often. The change of seasons is the perfect opportunity to pause and assess any necessary lawn maintenance.

Left unmaintained for more than a week, overgrown grass can become quite an eye-sore. Therefore, we would like to encourage residents to maintain their property on a weekly basis by mowing their lawns, edging their driveways and walkways, and weeding their yard (don't forget about the areas between the concrete slabs). Force Mows will be issued in the event an unsightly lawn is not rectified within the specific timeframe. Everyone contributes to the overall look and feel of the community and by maintaining your yards, you are making your community that much better.

Trash Cans

In accordance with the deed restrictions for trash maintenance, be sure to keep all garbage in a proper trash receptacle with a securable lid. Trash cans must also be kept sanitary and remain out of public/street view in-between trash pickup days. The Association would also like to remind residents not to litter. Please join our efforts to keep Riverstone beautiful and dispose of your trash in the proper waste receptacles.

Please Pick up After Your Pet

Riverstone is happy to be a pet-friendly community, even offering a dog park for our furry friends to play in! With this family oriented community, pets are a welcomed addition to many homes. But if you don't watch your step, you just might step in one such reminder! When you are out in the community with your furry friend, please remember these pet etiquette tips. When walking your dog(s) in Riverstone, please remember that it should be leashed, and please immediately clean up after your pet. Take with you a baggie to pick up your pet's waste, and be sure to dispose of it properly. Please also remember that the Association is not responsible for ensuring that Riverstone is pet waste-free. By simply cleaning up after your pet, you can contribute not only to the beautification of Riverstone but also towards the elimination of an irritating nuisance in our community.

Would You Like to Get Involved by Serving as a Committee Member?

Your Riverstone Board of Directors values community residents' input and feedback and seeks volunteers to join our landscape committee! While serving, residents will have the unique opportunity to give back to their community and to provide ideas and suggestions.

The landscape committee assists with landscape-related projects, yard of the month, lawn care information, and other programs that help reflect residents' pride in the community.

If you want to get involved or learn more about volunteering as a committee member, please contact operations@riverstone.com to receive an application.

Thank you in advance for your interest, and we look forward to working alongside many residents to continue growing the beautiful Riverstone community!

About Our Community Crepe Myrtles

Riverstone residents have likely noticed the dead crepe myrtles within the community. While the HOA is currently addressing this, we thought you might be interested in the triple climate punch that caused this. We reached out to well-known local landscape architect Clark Condon for an explanation. Here's what they had to say:

Plants in the region have been experiencing extreme stress due to three significant climate events: Winter Storm Uri in February 2021, the unprecedented heat wave and 10-week drought of the 2022 summer, and Winter Storm Elliott in December 2022. Local horticulturists are still assessing the full extent of the impacts, but initial findings on woody ornamentals have been reported by Dr. David Creech, Director of the Stephen F. Austin State University Gardens, in a recent article in the Texas Gardener.

He notes woody ornamentals that nearly perished in the aftermath of Uri unexpectedly “returned vigorously from the base.” However, less than a year after this unprecedented weather event, Winter Storm Elliott left these same ornamentals “unprepared” and unable to recover. Dr. Creech also reports that “the freeze impacts are showing a delayed response,” with older plants appearing to suffer less than the younger plant material. As seen in the landscapes around Riverstone, there have been a few species where this decline has been particularly noticeable, including the crepe myrtles. At the Stephen F. Austin University Gardens, they are currently assessing 136 varieties of crepe myrtles. In general, there was “good survival, but some varieties are showing dieback and unthrifty growth.”

Winter Storm Elliott devastated local plants, as the sudden combination of plummeting temperatures, dry air, and powerful winds left little chance for acclimation to the freezing weather conditions. Although colder in temperature, Winter Storm Uri brought frozen precipitation that encased trees, insulating them from the freezing temperatures. Within Riverstone, the impacts of these weather events can be seen as many crepe myrtles have died or are showing signs of stress. Observing the effects of the storm, it is evident that crepe myrtle health varies within the community. This inconsistency can be attributed to factors like microclimates and plant age.

Furthermore, the long-term impacts of these environmental stresses are still under observation. For example, the harsh freezing winds caused destructive cracks in the branches and trunks of trees, leaving them vulnerable to infestations by pests and insects. Consequently, the burden placed on these trees has continued their slow decline.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

Riverstone Business Spotlight

Deepali Chanana and Jasmeet Singh Paul love tea beverages, so when an opportunity to open the first RareTea store in the greater Houston area presented itself, they jumped on it.

The family-owned and operated business opened to acclaim last March and already has an impressive five-star rating on Yelp. Reviewers laud both the quality of the tea and the friendliness of the staff.

“The response has been simply amazing, and our customers’ reviews on Google and Yelp say it all,” Deepali Chanana said. “We just can’t thank our Riverstone family enough for accepting us and supporting our business. It is a great relationship we have formed, where the community is helping us grow and we are giving back to our community in the form of charity events and fundraisers. It’s a great place to be!”

Chanana credits being a family-owned business with their success.

“We understand the value of building a family from its roots in a tightly knit community and neighborhood,” Chanana said. “Riverstone is one of Fort Bend County’s most desirable addresses and offers such a rich, vibrant and diverse community to its residents.”

Chanana said that many of their signature drinks have become super fan favorites, including Rose Matcha Latte, Mango Passion Fruit Green Tea, Okinawa Milk Tea and Caramelized Brown Sugar Boba.

“RareTea differentiates itself from many others from the sourcing of their raw material to the quality standard of the drinks itself,” Chanana said. “For example, our fruit teas are made with fresh fruits or our in-house fruit purees, and we only use organic milk in all dairy beverages. The quality and taste of the drinks speaks for itself when customers try our drinks.”

Several toppings are available, including boba, jellies, pudding, ice cream, aloe vera and more.

Chanana wants customers to know that RareTea is not your typical boba tea business.

“We take pride in the quality of the ingredients we use and put into each drink as well as our dedication in creating our recipes,” she said. “Quality and customer service is at the heart of our business, and we will not stop until we make each and every customer happy.”

RareTea is located at 4821 L J Parkway in Sugar Land. For more information or to order, visit their website at <https://rareteasugarland.square.site>.

IN YOUR COMMUNITY

Fort Bend County Nonprofit Spotlight

Nestled in the heart of Fort Bend County is a truly exceptional place called The Brookwood Community, a God-centered non-profit residential and vocational community for adults with functional disabilities.

Founded in 1985 by Yvonne Tuttle Streit, The Brookwood Community helps their “Citizens” acquire meaningful job skills and experience the pride that accompanies the ability to contribute to one’s own support, as well as growing professionally, socially emotionally and spiritually.

“Most young people with functional disabilities think graduation from school is a ‘magic’ day,” said Streit, Founder and Executive Director Emeritus for The Brookwood Community. “They tend to think this because they have studied and worked hard and the diploma they earned is their key to success. But after graduation, there are not many places adults with functional disabilities may work. It is a very sad situation.”

Currently, 112 Citizens live and work on the 485-acre campus in Brookshire. Another 94 live at home and attend a day program. Twenty-nine attend day programs at satellite campuses in The Woodlands and Richmond. The campuses serve adults with autism spectrum disorders, intellectual disabilities, developmental disabilities, traumatic brain injuries, dual diagnosis and/or aging care needs.

The Brookwood Community provides a wide range of vocational opportunities tailored to the unique abilities and interests of its residents. From horticulture and woodworking to pottery and culinary arts, residents can explore and develop their talents in a supportive and encouraging environment. The Brookwood Community does not accept government funding.

“Our funding comes from tuition, enterprise revenue and donations,” Shara Pullen, Marketing and Communication Manager said. “We are committed to serving adults with disabilities from all economic backgrounds and give extensive scholarship assistance.”

“Many families need and receive more than $1 million in tuition aid,” Streit said. “Private sector donations include individuals, corporations, foundations, churches and civic groups. Brookwood’s budget is 40 percent tuition, 40 percent enterprise revenue, and 20 percent donations.”

Brookwood Community provides a safe and nurturing home environment boasting picturesque gardens, lakes and charming cottages. In addition to comfortable residential accommodations, the community offers amenities such as a chapel, a café, an art gallery, a gift shop and a garden center.

Contributing to that atmosphere are Citizen Home Supervisors and Direct Support Professionals who encourage interdependence between all who live in the home.

“Our homes foster a wholesome living environment that allows each person to live interdependently with one another and all become contributing members in their home,” Pullen, said.

There are a number of ways people can contribute to the success of Brookwood Community, including shopping at The Brookwood Café and Gift & Garden Center. The café was voted one of the best around on OpenTable and received the coveted “Diner’s Choice 2023” in several categories. Both The Brookwood Café and chapel are available for weddings, events, and catering. Volunteers are always needed and welcome.

Pullen suggests that people come out to see The Brookwood Community for themselves.

“If you’ve never been to t/he Brookwood Community, come take a tour,” she said. “Come and see for yourself how the Citizens at Brookwood are changing the way the world thinks about adults with disabilities.”

To learn more or volunteer, visit the Brookwood Community website at www.brookwoodcommunity.org or phone them at 281.375.2100.
